

Short Story Assessment

(Shany Kate Mesadieu)

Timeline of the story

In a village there was living a little boy and his mother, they didn't have much everyday the little boy woke up and would cut grass and go sell in the market, but even if the mother couldn't do it herself, every night the mother would tell the little boy story night about dragon before sleeping. One day the village become poor of waters and there were no more rains, days becoming to weeks which becomes to months, at that time the soil was hard and there were no growth. One day the little boy allere on the mountains searching for life and growth, he climbing the mountain, arriving at a spot the little boy mouth drops as he saw beautiful grass with their beautiful green color and fresh, the little boy cutted the grass and put it on his shoulder and ran as fast as he can at his house, and he called his mom and showed her what he has found, both of them the mother and the son had a great dinner that day.

Timeline of the story

The next morning the little boy has climbing the mountain again searching for another spot where he might found grass like he found yesterday, arriving at the same spot that he went yesterday the little boy couldn't believe his eyes, the grasses were their again as green and beautiful as they were yesterday, the little boy ran again and cut them to bring them home, but while cutting them a little thing catch the boys attention, on the roots of the plants the little boy saw a red shiny little pearl, he was epoustoufler, so he ran home with the grass on his back and showed his mother what he had found the mother was surprised cause she had never seen such a shiny, beautiful and rounded pearl, she told her son “ son this pearl could get us to fortune we could get a lot of money for this little pearl” so the mother put the pearl in a jaw of rice the jaw was almost empty. The little in his own deciding to plant the grass in this hard and dry soil he deeped hours and hours and at the time he had finished the little boy was tired and tell his mother “ mother I’m tired is it ok, if we leave this bed time story for tomorrow” the mother agreed cause she knew her son was really tired.

Timeline of the story

The next morning the son woke up excited to see if the grass has grown over night, with a disappointed look on his face the little boy watched the dead grass on the ground brown because of lack of water, the little boy heard his mother make a loud sound in the kitchen so he ran and saw his surprised mother looking at the jar of rice, the jar was filled with rice in at the top was the red shiny pearl. The mother had an idea she putted the red pearl in the jar of oil and and the next morning the jar was filled with oil. As good as they were the mother and the son used their fortune properly, they shared rice and oil and other product that they were able to have with their neighbors. The neighbors knowing how poor the little boy and his mother were they were questioning the fortune and as good as the mother and the little boy were they didn't lie about what they found.

Timeline of the story

In the world there are good people and bad people the good people who care and are happy for u and the bad people who hate you for what you and want what you have for all themselves. Two of those bad people on morning goes to the mother and the sons house and knocked on the door and tell them with a terrifying voice “ open we are here see the pearl “, the mother and the son didnt want to but they were terrified so the son goes and took the pearl were him and his mother were hiding it, the little boy showed the pearl in his flat hand to the peoples and with the feeling that one of those people will snatched the pearl the little boy, putted the pearl in his mouth and swallowed it, the little boy stomach started burning, so he ran and drink as much as water as he could, arriving at a river the little drank water and water faster then a hand clap the little boy was turning into a big giant dragon with his green scalk, the mother onhis foot screaming “ son, son “ the little boy took his mother carefully and putted her in banch by the river and before he decided to help the village before he goes by sending the waters in the sources for the villagers, he wanted to say goodbye to his mom but instead of the words a loud and scary grown comes out of his mouth.

Theme #1

In life even if people are doing things that will make you upset always remember that doing good thing pay off. No matter how hard things are always be kind, don't let people act get you.

Would you Recommend this story? Why or Why Not?

I would recommend this book in way because, it explains how life is and teach you a lot of lessons how to act around people, and how ro handle life. I won't say that I would not recommend the book, because it's a life changing.